

Shireen Meer, Ph.D.
Senior Associate

Professional Profile

Dr. Shireen Meer is a Senior Associate in Exponent's Health Sciences Center for Epidemiology, Biostatistics, and Computational Biology. Dr. Meer is an economist specializing in the application of economics to intellectual property, antitrust, and general commercial issues. Prior to joining Exponent, Shireen had several years experience in economic consulting, where her project work spanned several industries, including high technology, pharmaceutical, and medical products.

Academic Credentials and Professional Honors

Ph.D., Economics, Emory University, Atlanta, GA, 2007
M.A., Economics, Emory University, Atlanta, GA, 2007
B.Sc., Economics, Lahore University of Management Sciences (honors), Pakistan
2001

Emory Fellowship, 2002–2007

Languages

Urdu (Native Speaker) /Hindi (Fluent Oral)
Punjabi (Native Speaker)

Publications

Meer S, Capra CM, Lanier CM. The effects of induced mood on behavior in random nth price auctions. J Econ Behav Organiz, 2010, in press.

Professional Affiliations

American Economic Association—AEA