Professional Profile

Mr. Wagner-Jauregg focuses on determining the root cause of failures in a wide variety of products including machinery, vehicles, pressure vessels, medical devices, consumer products, and building materials. His extensive laboratory testing experience includes mechanical testing, thermodynamics, combustion, and heat transfer. Mr. Wagner-Jauregg has designed and conducted many customized testing programs involving a wide range of disciplines and products. He has performed investigations into the cause and origin of fires and explosions and has extensive knowledge of instrumentation and data acquisition techniques and systems.
